

Teaming with Fish: Researcher Bio

Greg Krutzikowsky

Greg Krutzikowsky is the Nearshore Policy Project Leader with Oregon Department of Fish & Wildlife’s Marine Resources Program. He is based in Newport, Oregon.

Learn more about the Nearshore Resources Planning Project

Greg’s Background:

“I’ve worked as an educator, scientist, and fishery manager. I earned a Bachelor’s degree in Marine Biology at Occidental College. I worked at the Catalina Island Marine Institute, the Oceanic Society, and the Pacific Whale Foundation before returning to school to pursue a Master’s Degree at Oregon State University. My Masters work on bowhead whales in the arctic used satellite monitored radio tags to track their movements and dive behavior. Since graduating I have worked as a marine mammal observer, a fisheries research biologist, and as the director of a Large Whale Entanglement Response Program. In my current position at the Oregon Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Marine Resources Program, I work in marine science, fishery management, ocean policy, and public outreach.”